1. Gun control advocates label semi-automatic firearms with certain cosmetic features as so-called "assault weapons." However, all semi-automatic firearms are functionally the same (one round fired per one pull of the trigger.)

Would you oppose any legislation that reinstates the 1994 law, which sunset in 2004, that banned many types of semi-automatic firearms (commonly referred to as "assault weapons")?

Yes No

2. The Supreme Court ruled in Heller (2008) that: "The Second Amendment guarantees an individual's right to possess a firearm unconnected with service in a militia," and that the District of Columbia's ban on operable firearms in the home violated that right. Nevertheless, D.C. officials have subsequently passed a law that is nearly as restrictive as the old one, and it now includes a "microstamping" provision that could impact gun owners nationwide.

Do you support legislation to repeal the District of Columbia's gun laws?

Yes No If no, please explain: _____

3. Legislation in Congress seeks to ban private firearm sales at gun shows unless the buyer submits to a federal background check.

Would you oppose legislation that would require private buyers and sellers of firearms at a gun show to get the federal government's approval before completing the transaction?

Yes No
